Jones at Austin.

[Austin Reveille 18th.]

The train from Battle Mountain ran in ahead of time last night and got to Clifton at 9 o'clock. The motor and a flat car, carrying the band and a number of men with torches went down to meet Senator Jones. As that gentleman stepped from the train he was greeted with music, three cheers and a tiger. The crowd then boarded the train and were soon in Austin. The wind blew fiercely, but despite this inconvenience the reception though impromptu was quite a success. Upon his arrival the Senator went immediately to his rooms in the Molinelli House, because he was very weary, having spoken at Winnemucca the night before and not being able to retire until a late hour. He has been around to-day, however, visiting old acquaintances and making new ones. To-night he speaks at International Hall. He speaks at Eureka on the 20th—Monday night and thinks of going "overland," because the trains do not connect at Palisade. If he goes by rail he will have to charter a special train on the Eureka and Palisade road. He will decide upon his route to-day.

All Republicans will remember the car torchlight procession to-night and be on hand at 6:30 o'clock at Upper Austin. The cars will be lighted and the little cannon will add its peals to the occasion. All Republicans are requested to turn out and give Senator Jones a hearty reception on this his first visit to Austin in twelve years. After the procession the Senator will speak in International Hall on the political issues of the day.

The Republican Appeal.

The National Republican Committee has issued an appeal to voters, which says: The Republican National Committee hails in glorious victories already won a sure omen of a greater victory close at hand. Vermont is still the star that never sets. Maine, captured in 1880, rebukes the slander by a plurality of twenty thousand, a gain of 13 per cent. of its entire vote. West Virginia, in place of eleven thousand plurality for Hancock, now falls below 3,000, a Republican gain of 7 per cent. which kindles a hope that the 153 votes of the solid South may be broken in November. But the result in Ohio is a revolution and a prophecy. Only a year ago Democratic by 10,000 plurality, Ohio now gives 12,000 plurality for the lowest Republican State candidate, and on national issues 18,000 for a Republican Congress. The committee appeals to the people to make the victory decisive. It is no time for overconfidence or neglect of any proper effort. Bare success is not enough. It is time to put an end to the agitation by which the Democratic party prostrates business every four years; to put an end to the hope that the nation can be ruled by shotguns in sixteen States and fraud in two; to put an end to the vilification of the foremost champions of American ideas by men who do not dare to meet the vital issues of a national policy.

The Ohio Election.

The New York Tribune in an editorial says: "What does Ohio prove? It proves that Blaine, an Eastern man, is about as strong at the West now as Garfield, the most popular of all Western men, was in 1880. It proves that the Republican party is practically solid in support of its candidates. The gains from the Democratic party more than offset the losses by reason of the opposition to Blaine. It proves that the tariff question then, at the West, has a tremendous influence, but it has far greater influence at the East, because a larger proportion of the voters are dependent upon the products of industry for a livelihood. It proves that the party is strong enough to hold its own, even at the West with an Eastern candidate, and with a frank advocacy of protection supposed to be unpopular there. It is strong enough to win at the East, where its candidate is well known, where Cleveland is also well known, where the Republican principles are so popular that Democrats do not dare to assail them."

The "Chicago and Pacific Coast fast freight line," as the new line formed by the alliance of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe roads is called, is now running daily from Chicago to San Francisco and all points in California, Mexico, New Mexico and Arizona on or reached by the Atchison, Southern Pacific and Mexican Central Railroads. The time made by the new route from Chicago to San Francisco is nine days, which is claimed to be much less than that made by the Union Pacific or Southern route.

James G. Blaine, frankly and in the clearest and most forcible manner, tells the people how he stands on the tariff question. Cleveland keeps his mouth shut and trusts to luck and Barnum's mules.

The fight in New York and Indiana promises to be the greatest in the history of American politics. All the big guns of both parties are to be poured into these States this week.

THE NEW YORK CAMPAIGN.

Blaine and Logan to Stay in That State Until Wednesday.

NEW YORK, October 20.—"When Mr. Blaine comes back from the West," said Chairman Warren of the State Republican Committee yesterday, "he will be accompanied by General Logan, and we propose keeping the two of them in this State right along till election day. Of course, they will make flying visits to New Jersey and Connecticut, but they will not be out of this State more than two or three days altogether. Just what day they will strike the New York border is not positively known, but it is settled that they will progress to this city over the Erie Railroad. A night will be spent in Elmira and chances will be given the people of Binghamton, Corning, Oswego, Port Jervis, Middlebury and other places to see and hear the distinguished travelers. Two grand demonstrations will mark the presence of Blaine and Logan in this vicinity. They will be held on succeeding days, which have not yet been fixed. In this city there will be a parade of uniformed clubs which promises to be unparalleled in the particular of picturesque effect and military discipline. Every district will be represented by from 200 to 1,000 uniformed and disciplined men. It is not quite settled whether the closing mass meeting of the campaign will be held that or the succeeding night. The candidates will review the procession from a platform in front of the national headquarters on Fifth Avenue."

A Congratulatory Address.

The Ohio Republican State Executive Committee has addressed the following complimentary address to the Republicans of the State:

COLUMBUS (O.), October 18, 1884.

To THE REPUBLICANS OF OHIO: On behalf of the Republican State Executive Committee, we congratulate you upon the magnificent victory which you won on last Tuesday. Our enemies were made confident by the victories which they had won in 1882-83. They were strong in having full possession of every branch of the State Government and of the police departments of nearly all our large cities. The Democracy of the Nation poured their men and money into our State with the hope of settling the Presidential election by capturing Ohio. All these means were used against you with great skill and a reckless disregard for fairness and right. Against all these odds you have made a brave contest and fairly won it, having made a gain over last year of over 20,000 on the head of your ticket, against whom all sorts of schemes were devised for the purpose of cutting down his vote. In the result upon other State officers and Congressmen your victory appears in greater magnitude, as upon those the gains were 30,000 and 31,000. The State has been gerrymandered by the Democratic Legislature so that it was thought impossible for the Republicans of Ohio to secure more than six members of the next National House of Representatives. With this unfairness to contend with, you have won ten Congressmen.

While we congratulate you upon this victory, we also ask you to enter upon the contest which will close on the 4th of November with renewed vigor and enthusiasm. The enemy have renewed the struggle, and by the unscrupulous use of State, county and municipal Governments, where they control them, will attempt to rob us of the fruits of our victory. Let every Republican put his shoulder to the wheel of our triumphant chariot and bury the Democracy under such an overwhelming majority that another campaign of slander and scandal will not be indulged in by our beaten foe.

JOHN F. OGLEVEE, President.
JOSHUA R. BROWN, Secretary.

John Kelly on Cleveland.

NEW YORK, October 19.—John Kelly was visited a day or two ago by Joseph W. Lucky, editor of the Rochester Sunday Herald, a paper which recently published William Purcell's alleged endorsement of Cleveland. Mr. Lucky and Mr. Purcell are neighbors. In the course of a short conversation, Lucky asked Kelly what Cleveland's plurality in New York city would be.

"Mr. Cleveland ought to get 40,000 in this city," said Mr. Kelly.

"Will it be safe to estimate that he will get more than 40,000?" asked Mr. Lucky.

"I think not," was the reply.

"But will 40,000 in this city elect Mr. Cleveland in the State?" Lucky asked.

"I think not," was the quiet response of Mr. Kelly.

WOODBURN AT TUSCARORA.

Times-Review 17th.

Woodruff & Ennor's Hall was crowded last night by people who were anxious to hear what the Republican nominee for Congress, Hon. Wm. Woodburn, had to say on the political issues of the day. The hall was beautifully decorated, and the Excelsior band furnished music for the occasion. The meeting was opened by John W. Powell, Republican nominee for State Senator, who, although not claiming to be an orator, entertained the audience with a half hour's speech full of sound Republican doctrines. Mr. Woodburn was then introduced and held the large assemblage for nearly two hours, his remarks eliciting frequent applause. He stated that he accepted the nomination under protest; refuted the argument of his opponent in relation to the Martin Kosta and McSweeney cases, and told his hearers that the people were indebted to the Republican party for the homestead and eight-hour law. Referring to the tariff, he explained wherein it benefited the country, and said under Republican rule the tariff was low on articles we do not produce and high on those articles which we do produce. He referred to the Act passed by a Republican Congress granting every soldier of the late war 160 acres of land. The speaker also alluded to the railroad land grant, foreign pauper labor, Governor Cleveland's veto and the silver question, and wound up with allusion to the late victory of the Republican party in Ohio, and expressing the firmest faith in the success of his party on the 4th of November.

An item is going the rounds in which Lyon county is listed with the other Democratic counties of the State. Lyon will probably have a small majority for Blaine and Logan.—Lyon County Times.

DAGGETT AND HAWLEY.

The Fires of Republicanism Burning Brightly in Reno Last Night.

There was a good audience at the theater last night, a large number of ladies being present. At promptly 8 o'clock Chairman Dawson introduced Minister Daggett, who began by paying a poetical tribute to the lovely Truckee and surrounding scenes, which brought to him pleasant recollections of the past and cherished hopes of the future. It was in the Islands Daggett said, that he discovered the key-note of this campaign. This was after the reading of the Democratic tariff plank, and after reading it he didn't know but what he had become insane, but he found afterwards that Ben Butler had explained what was attempted. Daggett didn't know nor care much about Cleveland, but as the representative of the Democratic party his defeat was necessary to the prosperity of the country despite the assurances of the Harpers or the virtuous Beecher. Fundamental Democracy was opposed to everything looking to a nation with a big N, and hence the old-time opposition to the Federal Banks, internal improvements or a tariff of any kind. Fundamental Democracy of to-day means free trade. The Republican party, on this issue, not only had to fight the Democratic party but England as well. Mr. Daggett reviewed the tariff question in all of its bearings, citing statistics innumerable to sustain the Republican policy of Protection. Protection to labor is the twin sister of the Declaration of Independence. No naturalized citizen should support Cleveland unless he desires to pauperize American labor. Blaine was a giant among statesmen, an American among Americans, and would make a magnificent President. Senator Jones deserved well of Nevada and should be sent back to the Senate. Woodburn was a thorough Republican, a strong Protectionist, and did not believe platforms were made to catch votes. Judge Hawley was an experienced jurist and incorruptible Judge and the people should not fail to elect him again. Mr. Daggett said he knew nearly all the candidates on the Washoe county ticket, and the ticket was one of the best ever nominated in the county, and Republicans should vote it without a scratch. Daggett then referred to Cassidy and some of his startling assertions, saying many things he had not accomplished. In concluding Daggett urged all to stand by American labor, American manhood and free thought, and against that party which attempted to degrade America and Americans.

Judge Hawley was introduced, and met a hearty welcome. He referred to his official actions, and claimed that he could not promise to do better in the future, but could promise that he would do no worse than he had done in the past. He thanked the people of Washoe for the kindness with which they had always treated him. The Judge said, however, that he was always at home at a Republican meeting, and in a brief and spirited manner eulogized Republican measures and men, and insisted that the Republican party combined within itself the strength and wisdom to manage this country better than ever, always progressive and honest. The Democratic party was generally behind the times, and usually tearing down instead of building up. The Judge made a red-hot talk, replete with Republican gains, and that they were appreciated by the audience was evidenced by the frequent applause the speaker received. The Judge concluded his remarks by calling the attention of the young men to the importance of starting right in political matters, believing that upon a proper comparison of the parties they would unite with the party he believed in.

The Catholic Fair.

Yesterday was the second day of the Catholic Fair and it attracted a much larger crowd during the day and evening than on Monday. The admission to the hall is 25¢ which entitles each person to a chance in a valuable prize. The admission tickets are all numbered, and at the head of the stairway are collected and a duplicate deposited in a cylinder, from whence one number is drawn at the close of the evening's entertainment which entitles the holder to the prize offered.

A Horrible Death.

Two tramps were riding on brake-beams on freight train No. 8, which arrived in Wadsworth early Monday morning, and one of them, named H. C. Stribenauer, was on the first coach. As the car was passing over a road crossing two miles east of Wadsworth, his clothing caught in the planks, and he was torn from his resting place. The wheels caught him and cut him in two at the waist, and also cut his left leg off. Coroner Pierson held an inquest and found from the papers on him and the evidence of the man with him, that he was a butcher by trade, 18 years old, and that his parents live in Springfield, Ill. He was going to San Francisco, and had beat his way the whole distance from Chicago, where he worked last. He had only two butcher knives and a steel on his person. The job of searching his person was so terrible that it was almost impossible to do it thoroughly. He was buried at Wadsworth Monday evening.

Lecture By Dr. Newman.

Rev. Dr. Newman, of New York, is billed to lecture in the Methodist Church Friday evening. Mr. Newman made a tour of the world with General Grant and party, and is now on his way to San Francisco to officiate at the funeral of Governor Stanford's son who died in Italy. Mr. Newman has a world-wide reputation as a preacher and lecturer. His subject will be upon scenes and incidents in the Holy Land. He will undoubtedly be greeted by a full house.

Where is it?

The Enterprise says that parties who returned to that City from a prospecting trip assert that they have made a big find of nickel at a place within twenty-five miles of the Comstock. Just where their find is located they do not care to say at present. The vein, they say, has heretofore been looked upon as being merely a big mass of iron and other base metals.

Shooting scrape.

Dan O'Keefe and a young man called Patsy Barry, from Carson, got into a difficulty about 11 o'clock last night in which Barry fired two shots at O'Keefe, one of which passed through his clothes and struck Barney Clow's boy, grazing the scalp. The boy is not dangerously hurt. Further particulars of the affray could not be obtained.

Painful Accident.

The little 3-year-old son of George Wilson, the ice man, fell on a piece of broken box Monday evening and a protruding nail cut his tongue frightfully. Drs. Hogan and Dawson took several stitches in the little fellow's tongue to hold it in proper shape. They think it will come out all right.

The Races.

The weather yesterday was all that could be wished, and there was a much better attendance at the track than the day before, yet did not amount to a jam. The races were lively and well contested, and caused considerable money to be placed in the pool box.

Attempted Suicide.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a girl known as May Murphy attempted suicide by taking morphine. A doctor was called in immediately and prevented a consummation of the rash act. At a late hour last night she was pronounced out of danger.

H. P. Nelligan, with a force of men, was at work yesterday repairing the roof of Odd Fellows' building on Virginia street.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be thin milkish blue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration to the genito-urinary organs.
